

PREPAREDNESS PARADE MOVEMENT LAUNCHED

Committees Named at Meeting of Prominent Citizens to Act on Matter.

ADOPT RESOLUTION IN FAVOR

Object Is to Show Nation That Richmond Favors Adequate Defense.
Conference May Be Held To-Day With Mayor Ainslie.

Voicing strong sentiments favoring adequate commercial, industrial and military preparedness for the United States, a temporary organization was formed last night at a meeting in the Richmond Hotel of about fifty leading business men of Richmond, and committees were appointed to consider the advantages of holding a preparedness parade. The organization formed last night will co-operate with Mayor Ainslie, who has addressed letters to leading citizens asking for their views on a preparedness demonstration.

The meeting was called to order last after the annual dinner of the Richmond Rotary Club, and many Rotarians were in attendance, as were members of Post A, Travelers' Protective Association, Introductory addresses were made by Postmaster Hays T. Thornton, J. T. Palmatary, Horace F. Smith, Alvin M. Smith, Hunsdon Cary, James F. Ryland, William Todd, H. H. Randolph and others.

On motion of James F. Ryland the following resolution was unanimously adopted:

"Whereas, preparedness being the engaging thought of the people of the whole country at this critical stage of the world war, and

"Resolved, That the people of this, the capital city of the Commonwealth of Virginia, in order to express their loyalty to country and to aid in strengthening the hearts and minds of our administration at Washington, do hereby determine to hold a preparedness parade at some time in the near future, as may be determined upon by the committee named for that purpose.

"That every citizen who loves his country be invited to participate in the parade, and that the Stars and Stripes be displayed on the route of the parade, and that the participants in other portions of the city, or worn on the person, as may suit each individual."

George Rogers was named temporary chairman, and appointed the following committee on permanent organization: James F. Ryland, M. W. Lloyd, William Todd and Dr. H. H. McMillan.

A committee, composed of Granville G. Valentine, Horace F. Smith, Walker C. Cottrell and Alvin M. Smith, was appointed to confer with Mayor Ainslie, and to co-operate with him in any possible way toward promoting the parade. The Mayor has sent out nearly two hundred prominent business men asking for their views on the advisability of holding such a demonstration, and while as yet all replies have not been received, there is a universal sentiment favoring a preparedness demonstration in Richmond.

At the outset Mr. Cottrell wanted to know what was meant by "preparedness," and, acknowledging that this was rather a large question, said that he merely asked the question that the body might arrive at some conclusion and get down to business.
There was also brought up the question of whether or not those attending the parade should be given nationality, and when Chairman Rogers placed the question on a rising vote, every one present immediately rose to his feet.

"I am in favor of a preparedness parade," said Mr. Cottrell, "but I think it should be a real preparedness demonstration, not following so much the lead of several Northern cities in a military display, but a display of children, fitting them for afterlife, and preparedness for our industries, that they may compete with foreign industries." Mr. Cary replied that he thought a military demonstration was appropriate, that every one might know that Richmond favored national preparedness.

B. H. Randolph, saying that any citizen of Richmond knew what was meant when a preparedness parade was spoken of, was heartily applauded.
The object of this parade, Mr. Cary then replied, "is to bring pressure to bear on the powers in Washington to show them that the people of this city favor adequate preparedness."

Chairman Rogers suggested that members of the two committees get actively at work at once, and it is probable that a conference will be held with Mayor Ainslie to-day.

Among those attending the meeting last night were George W. Rogers, Alvin M. Smith, James F. Ryland, Hun-sdon Cary, M. W. Lloyd, William Todd, Dr. H. H. McMillan, Granville G. Valentine, Horace F. Smith, Walker C.
Cottrell, Hay T. Thornton, C. B. Cooke, B. H. Randolph, James C. Harwood, J. T. Palmatary and P. W. Lutz. E.
S. Sowers acted as secretary of the meeting.

DR. WAITE TO TESTIFY AT HIS MURDER TRIAL

New York Dentist, Charged With Killing Father-in-Law, Will Go on the Stand—Faces Trying Ordeal To-Day, When Wife Will Be Heard.

NEW YORK, May 23.—Confronted by an unbroken chain of evidence, which, the State claims, conclusively proves him guilty of the murder of his wealthy father-in-law, John E. Peck, Grand Rapids, Mich., Dr. Arthur Warren Waite, the young New York dentist, will go on the witness stand in an effort to save himself from the electric chair. This decision was reached to-night by his counsel at the end of the second day of his trial.

The defendant's most trying ordeal probably will come to-morrow, when his wife, Mrs. Clara Peck Waite, her brother, Percy Peck, and Mrs. Margaret Horton, with whom Waite shared a "studio" in a hotel here, will take the stand against him. Mrs. Horton, accompanied by her husband, Harry Horton, and her sister, was in court to-day.

MYSTERY OF "K. ADAMS"

It also is expected that the mystery surrounding the identity of the person who sent a telegram to Percy Peck, in Grand Rapids, urging that an autopsy be held on the body, will be disclosed to-morrow. The telegram gave the first intimation to the Peck family that there was anything wrong. It read:

"Suspicion aroused. Demand autopsy.
Examine body."

(Signed) "K. ADAMS."

District Attorney Edward Swann steadfastly has refused to divulge the identity of the sender of the telegram, but in announcing a list of the witnesses who would be called by the State, he included the name of "K.
Adams."

It is said that the mysterious person is a woman outside this State, and that she exacted a promise from the district attorney not to disclose her real name until he was ready for her to appear at the trial.

Thus far the only testimony which in the remotest manner could be regarded as throwing any light on the identity of "K. Adams" was given today by Dr. Jacob B. Cornell and his nephew, Arthur C. Swinton, both of Somerville, N. J., who declared that Waite's actions on the morning of Dr.
Peck's death were most unusual.

EXPLAINED THAT MRS. HORTON

WAS NURSE ASSISTING HIM

Swinton asserted that a short time previously, while he and his mother were dining in the hotel where Waite since has admitted he had his "studio," they saw Waite with Mrs. Horton.

GIVES DISTRICT ATTORNEY

SAMPLE OF FLUID

After describing his visit to the spot with Detective John Cuniff and digging up the money, Kane testified that he had furnished the district attorney with a sample of the embalming fluid, but swore there was no arsenic in it.

Counsel for Waite, on cross-examination, asked only one question of Kane.
It was:

"Were you ever convicted of crime?"

"Yes," replied Kane, who then was excused.

Cuniff testified that when the money was dug up he found $7,800 in bills.
Dr. Leon S. Moos, connected with a drug-manufacturing concern, testified that Waite called on him last October and bought typhoid and diphtheria germs. A gruesome exhibit in the courtroom to-day was the vital organs of the victim's body preserved in glass jars, which were shown to the jury.

Waite, pale and visibly unnerved, hung his head and gazed almost continuously at the floor to-day. His hitherto apparently disinterested demeanor completely left him, and he was led from the courtroom across the "Bridge of Sighs" to his cell with faltering step.
